They're in for life. Don Nye, left, and Pete Dollo, right, pose with Minden Kinsmen Club president Rob Young after being presented with plaques and a life membership in the organization. The presentations were part of the local club's twenty-fifth anniversary celebrations which took place Saturday evening at the Community Centre. The award came as a surprise to both Kinsmen.

Kinsmen mark 25th - 2 named life members

Minden Kinsmen celebrated Saturday evening as members of the local service club marked their twenty-fifth anniversary and inducted two of their number as life members in the organization.

The life membership honour was bestowed on Peter Dollo and Don Nye. The two candidates were unaware that they were to receive the honour and, while they were out of the room preparing to enter with the head table guests, a banner proclaiming their new status in the club was strung across the hall.

Prior to receiving the plaques and life memberships, both Kinsmen were roasted by their fellow members. Lyle McKnight recalled a number of humorous incidents involving Don Nye while Eldon Deacon recounted several amusing stories involving Pete Dollo.

Both expressed surprise and pleasure at being given a life membership in Kinsmen and commented that the club activities in helping the community had also enriched their own lives.

Congratulations on the club's anniversary were brought by numerous officials and national Kinsmen executive. Murray Fearrey, the Warden of Haliburton County, and Deputy Reeve

Doug Pritchard representing the municipality added their appreciation to the congratulations received.

Members of the Kinetite Club of Minden presented the Local Kinsmen with a banner on which the objectives and aims of the club were inscribed.

The evening concluded with a dance.

Board announces school tax shares

The division of the Haliburton County School Board budget was announced last week and, as expected, education taxes in Haliburton will be increasing an average of 13.5%. The increases varying from a low of 8.9% for the Improvement District of Bicroft to just over 22% for the township of Monmouth.

The board's total budget for the year is up 13.1% to $5,934,000. This is an increase of $685,000 over last year. Of that total 1981 expenditure, the provincial government supplies $2,260,000, leaving $3,428,000 to be obtained through local taxes.

The following chart lists the levy being requested by the school board from each municipality and the per centage increase. The figures in the brackets are 1980 amounts:

Anson, Hindon & Minden: $686,263-13.9% ($602,512)
 Cardiff: $173,706-10.4% ($157,290)
 Dysart et al: $1,066,092-13.7% ($937,733)
 Glamorgan: $217,245-11.4% ($194,953)
 Lutterworth: $256,856-12.4% ($228,538)
 Monmouth: $138,389-22.1% ($113,345)
 Sherborne et al: $314,909-14.6% ($274,731)
 Snowdon: $114,217-12.3% ($101,752)
 Stanhope: $406,450-12.7% ($360,795)
 Bicroft Improvement District: $54,043-8.9% ($49,645)

According to the board of education figures, it will cost $2,030.23 to teach a child at the elementary level during 1981 while education at the secondary level will cost $2,998.02 per student for the year.

Kayak season opens with Ont. team trials

The kayaking season officially gets underway this weekend as the Gull River takes place at the Horseshoe Lake falls and rapids.

Kayak enthusiasts were in the chilly water last weekend, warming-up for the event this weekend which will help decide members for the Ontario white water kayaking team. The competitions will be taking place May 9 and 10.

Participating in the team trials will be Claudia Kerckhoff, a kayaking champion. Claudia is 20 years of age and has been challenging white water since age 12. Her interest in the sport can be traced back to her parents, both of whom hold numerous honours in kayaking.

Her father, Herman, has been the Canadian Men's Champion five times and winner of the North American Championship. Herman also represented Canada at the Munich Olympics.

Claudia's mother, Christa, was the women's kayaking champion in 1969 and 1970 and has served as coach for her husband.

The team trials this weekend will be a prelude to the major white water event of the year at the new run. The Canadian White Water Championships will be held June 13 and 14 at the same location with top competitors from across the country taking part.

FROM THE CHAMBER

By Bob Stinson

Did you ever wonder about the apparently large number of business failures that occur in our area. To be classified as a "Business Failure" you need not go bankrupt, you need only fail to accomplish what the business was intended to do when it was established. With that as a measure, there certainly are a great number who fall into the "failing" category, while yet still many others do extremely well at similar endeavours.

There is no denying that Haliburton has its own set of problems that can make running a business difficult. It also has its own unique opportunities too. One of the prime reasons we believe that businesses run into difficulty here is not the local environment but the business knowledge of many of those involved. Because there are limited opportunities for salaried employment in the county great numbers enter into independent business who would otherwise be more inclined to work for someone else. Their knowledge of their particular field of endeavour may be considerable, but if they lack in business operation expertise it could well get them into difficulty.

The Economic Development Commission has been successful in having a workshop scheduled for Haliburton that has gained considerable acclaim for the Ministry of Industry and Tourism. Business consultant Bob Pollock who will run the seminar tells us that they have been asked to return to some communities three and four times with this crash course on "Starting a Small Business". It is tightly condensed into four hours and therefore must start right on time - at 7:00 p.m. on Monday, May 11th at the PineStone Inn. There is no charge to attend but in order to be sure that we have arranged adequate seating for everyone please call the Chamber of Commerce and let us know if you plan to attend at 286-1760.

The agenda will be of value to not only those contemplating a small business, but those who are already into it and needing assistance coping with the various aspects of it. It could mean the difference between the success or failure of your business enterprise.

What's new!

There are so many new and exciting developments around the county this year that we are getting behind on reporting them to you. There are also a number of businesses that have just been sold within the last few weeks and we will be reporting on those as the new owners take possession.

The coming of a great Slide Ride to Haliburton Village is of course the most exciting. Not only will the ride itself become a major draw to our area, but the spin-off from the major promotional campaign being planned can only benefit all of us in the Highlands. We congratulate Steve Bowskill on putting this project together and encourage all of you to support it in every way.

There are many changes taking place now in Minden with existing businesses relocating and a few new ones coming on the scene. You may also note a new name for the Minden Bake Shop - "Mandy's" but the ownership still rests with Lorna Hicks who has acquired such a fine reputation for not only her baked goods but her lunches and snacks.

Out on the bypass "Maggies", under the new ownership of the Fieldings, has been all spruced up and opened for the season. Across the road the Schnitzel House is almost ready to open their all new dining rooms. The decor is truly elegant and features a peaceful view out over the patio and into the hills to the rear of the restaurant. We are sorry to hear that owner Otto Homestead has been in hospital and we hope that he has a speedy recovery, and the anticipated opening of this new facility is not unduly delayed.

Just north of Metro Carnarvon at Hall's Lake the Happy Holiday Variety reopened this weekend under the new ownership of Paul and Gwen Harrison. They said they had complete faith in their Real Estate agent, Paul's mother Marg Harrison, who assured them they would do well there. Welcome back to the Highlands Paul and Gwen.

Another opening this weekend was that of Kashaga Ford Sales on the former site of LaRue Motors near Haliburton. Frank Dunsford and Perry Morrison have been working throughout the winter to bring this dream to reality and we congratulate them and wish them much success. If you didn't make it to their opening drop in now and say hi.

In Haliburton village we note that Larry Vanlieshout has moved next door into part of the former Candlewood premises and the other portion is now occupied by Anne's Doll and Ceramic Studio. Anne's has been operating on Kingston Road in Toronto for a number of years quite successfully and is a welcome addition to the craft shops in our region.

Adjacent to them is the Steinburg Market which has served the village for years with fresh fruits and vegetables. Don Banks who along with his wife Jackie owns Bank's Store over on Pine

Open house at school

It's Education Week this week and Haliburton area schools are busy with special activities for both children and parents.

At Archie Stouffer Elementary, many parents took advantage of the opportunity to see their children "in action" during classes Tuesday morning.

The invitation to visit your child's class is open again Thursday afternoon from 1 p.m. until 3:40 p.m. If your child is in grade 6, 7 or 8, visit the class where subjects such as instrumental music, art, shop, home economics, Phys. ed. and science are being taught.

Kindergarten registration is on today from 1 until 3 p.m. There is an opportunity to meet Mrs. Fitzgerald and the two new kindergarten teachers for next year, Mrs.

Patricia Bain and Mrs. Kathy Rogers.

Also today, drop in and see Joan Paul, the school health nurse and Laura Starrett, the dental nurse from the regional health office.

Thursday morning there will be a health program for grade 7's and 8's presented by Mrs. Phil Childs from the regional health office.

Phys. ed. takes the spotlight on Friday when the senior girls and boys basketball teams travel to Little Britain to participate in a tournament at Mariposa school.

Dave McKinlay, phys. ed. teacher at Archie Stouffer says this year's phys. ed. open house will also be part of the

Hares breadth escape

It was a case of the right command but the wrong victims Friday evening when a Stanhope woman attempted to stop a thief near her home.

Sharon Fritshaw looked out her window at about 7:30 in the evening and noticed a man leaving her barn carrying six rabbits by the ears. Fritshaw ordered her dog to attack the intruder.

The dog obeyed her command and immediately gave chase.

Once the dust had settled, two of the rabbits were dead and the thief had been slightly injured. He limped away from the scene of the crime after dropping the remaining hares in his wake.

Constable Bob Wood is in charge of the investigation.

From the chamber

Street has purchased the market from Dave Steinburg and will be opening within the next week. Dave will be working with him for a while before completely retiring and enjoying a well deserved rest. Best of Luck to Don and Jackie.

Dave Chatfield who has been involved for some time in our area with advertising and promotion sales has purchased the Framing Studio on Oak Street and is expanding the lines to include books and a number of craft items. Dave is also able to offer a number of graphic services that are valuable in creating meaningful advertising, letterheads and so on and encourages businessmen to drop in and discuss these ideas with him.

On Main Street, in behind the Red and White the offices formerly occupied by McGuire Tire, we are pleased to welcome a new Real Estate firm to town. Hawkins, Taylor & Russelle is managed by Ted Saxby along with Ruth Lewis and Grant Crofts. We certainly wish them a prosperous future.

Over in Wilberforce we find Glen Store is busy building a shop behind his Glen's 10 to 10 Variety Store which will house his new and used tire depot. There is also a new store being constructed adjacent to the L.C.B.O. there but no announcements as yet.

TeePee Construction was sold recently and purchaser Karl Schaeffer and his family are looking forward to their future in the Highlands. Karl tells us things are off to a good start, he is very optimistic about the potential here, and looks very much forward to getting established in a permanent home. We certainly wish him well and hope you will make all of them welcome.

day's activities when parents can observe a class in session. For the past three years, there has been a separate program in the evening, he says.

McKinlay says he hopes parents will see the value of the program at the school. "There have to be certain routines, you want the children to achieve a certain level of skill, that's my aim."

Local group unhappy with selection process

Haliburton County council and local Red Cross societies should write letters to the district health council on behalf of residents dissatisfied with the selection process for the steering committee studying the future of the county's Red Cross hospitals.

That was the consensus reached by a large group of county residents at a special meeting last Tuesday evening (April 28), held at the Legion Hall in Haliburton. The meeting was called as a community information meeting for people who were absent from an April 22 meeting at PineStone Inn at which health council representatives and Toronto Red Cross officials were present.

Haliburton and Dysart et al reeve, Murray Fearrey agreed with the idea as did representatives from Minden, Haliburton and Wilberforce Red Cross branches.

Another suggestion was made that council members, Red Cross society reps and health council members should form the selection committee that would choose steering committee members.

However, some individuals were concerned that the meeting was not officially public. They felt the meeting had been called to discuss and clarify the various positions involved and if possible prepare an alternative proposal, other than the one outlined by the health council, could be worked out.

One of the problems with last Tuesday's meeting, said several people, was the absence of members of the council and the lack of advance publicity the meeting received.

Much of the discussion at the meeting was a rehash of what had been said at the PineStone meeting but many said they were still confused because the health council failed to set out terms of reference for the meeting and many people didn't know what was going on.

Ken Morely, chairman of the Haliburton Red Cross, said that was the reason he didn't ask many questions at the April 22 meeting.

Part of the confusion appears to rise from the explanation of what the health council's role in the matter is.

Basically, the district health council is being asked by the Ministry of Health to advise the Ministry on the best method of transferring control of local hospitals from the Red Cross.

The health council is now in the process of selecting a steering committee which will offer alternative suggestions as to the form of administration the hospitals should have.

The council can advise the committee of its limits and the council acts mainly as an intermediary between the committee and the Ministry.

Morely outlined the membership of the steering committee. It would consist of the president, Jim Swanston, one doctor each from Minden and Haliburton hospital, two members of the health council and one representative from each of the municipalities.

Barb Pierce, Haliburton's health council representative from Haliburton, said four other community people would be chosen, one from Haliburton and one from Minden and two from other municipalities such as Cardiff or Lutterworth.

People seemed to be upset by the fact that at the PineStone meeting, the health council asked for submissions from the people present to sit on the steering committee without any warning it was planning to do so.

Dr. Blair Pierce of the Haliburton hospital said he had altered his thinking on the matter and now feels there should be reconsideration of the selection process. Previously, he had said that the Red Cross had to deal with 10 hospitals in this matter and that Haliburton county, "Has to keep our two hospitals in perspective with the others in Ontario. We're not the only ones going through this."

The meeting ended with Fearrey and the Red Cross society representatives saying they would discuss the matter of sending letters to the health council with their respective colleagues.

Goods stolen

The police investigation is continuing into the theft of over $3000 in property from the Northland Surplus Store in Minden. The robbery occurred during the evening of May 1-2.

The intruder entered the store through a rear window and removed watches, fishing tackle, and clothing. Police found footprints outside the window and are speculating that the thief was a youth, because of the size of the imprint.

The investigation is being carried out by Constable Al Bibby.

Preparing for the future

This is education week in Ontario. It's time when schools throughout the province open their doors to the public to show how their tax dollars are being spent in the educating of students.

While many pine for "the good old days" of the little red schoolhouse, there are probably few who would disagree that educational opportunities in this day and age are far superior to those offered years ago. New innovations, modern techniques and equipment, fresh approaches to routine subjects and better trained and educated teachers have combined to make the Ontario school system the envy of the western world.

These innovations do not come without their trauma however. Parents and trustees are often reluctant to accept ideas with which they are unfamiliar. Teachers are often uncertain about the value of new programs. And of course, the cost of being a world leader in education is reflected in ever increasing education taxes. This year's budget for the Haliburton County system is nudging close to $6 million.

Now, more than ever before, parents, teachers and the general public should be concerned about the operation of our school system. The rapid changes ahead are going to require an alert and informed public which is able to separate valuable innovations from those ideas which are merely passing fads. This will involve greater involvement by parents, more openness on the part of the school system, and a sympathetic understanding by all parties to the concerns of others involved in the education process.

There can be little doubt the years ahead, with declining enrolment and rapid technological advances, will be a challenging time for our schools. Only an informed community can be ensured of an educational system that properly equips our students for the future.

Salute to Kinsmen

Congratulations are in order for the Minden Kinsmen as they celebrate their twenty-fifth anniversary. The club has been an active participant in the community since its founding in 1956 and members, past and present, can take pride in the extension of Kin ideals to Minden.

From the club's annual winter carnival, to the yearly contributions to the Canada-wide Cystic Fibrosis campaign, to volunteer services in the area, Minden Kinsmen have enriched this community in many ways. This contribution has made Minden, Haliburton County and Canada a better place in which to live.

The local community salutes the Kinsmen during their very special year.

Courting the prison vote

by Bill Scott, M.P.

The Quebec government has announced that it plans to extend the right to vote in municipal and provincial elections to prisoners in provincial jails.

If such a law is enacted by the Quebec legislature it will amount to a shocking disregard of convention and tradition, and can only detract from the sanctity of the secret ballot franchise extended to most adult Canadians.

Voting in Canadian elections is not an automatic right, enjoyed by everyone without condition. It is a privilege that is extended to those people in our society who meet certain reasonable criteria, such as age, citizenship, mental competence, and in most political jurisdictions there are minimum residency requirements.

It is fundamental to Canadian law and tradition that convicted felons serving prison sentences lose certain rights enjoyed by other citizens, including the right to vote.

Voting regulations, and the machinery to administer and validate the balloting process, are complex enough already. The problems associated with extending the franchise to prison inmates would further complicate the process and add considerably to the expense.

There would be the problems of determining which constituency an inmate would vote in, and whether he or she could meet residency requirements. There would be the problems of ensuring security and anonymity, and of assigning extra staff to supervise balloting in prisons.

There is one aspect of this idea of allowing prisoners to vote that has obviously been over-looked by the Quebec authorities, or at least they have not explained how it will work.

Any Canadian who has the right to vote has the right to stand for public office. This is basic and fundamental to the franchise. We could be faced with the ludicrous situation of a convicted murderer, serving a life sentence, running for the office of Mayor or Member of the Provincial Legislature.

So far the federal Solicitor General has said that will not allow such a law to apply to federal prisons in Quebec. Let us hope that this note of sanity will continue to prevail at the federal level, and in all other provinces.

Dealing with a majority

by John Eakins, M.P.P.

The first session of the 32nd Legislature is under way and I expect it to be an interesting but different session.

Since my election in 1975 I have only known minority government. This time the government has a majority. I often heard about arrogance setting in when one party has a large number of members, and I did not have to wait long to experience it. At least now Mr. Davis can put through whatever legislation he wants and cannot blame the Opposition for obstructing him. I can assure you, however, that my colleagues and I will be providing vigorous and constructive alternatives.

Since my first election I have had the honour to be

Official Opposition Critic for the Ministry of Industry of Tourism, and then for the last few years tourism critic. My role has now changed and I will be working as critic for the Ministry of Natural Resources. This change will allow me to attain a wider experience in the operation of provincial ministries and I look forward to the challenge.

The Ministry of Natural Resources is a large ministry, with very great responsibilities which touch the lives of almost every citizen of Ontario. Of course, being a critic doesn't mean that one does nothing but find fault. I see my role as offering constructive alternatives and being supportive of government policies that are in the interest of the people of Ontario. If you have any thoughts or ideas you would like to express, please do not hesitate to write to me.

I must say that in my short period of service as your member, I have been impressed with the great majority of the people employed by the Ministry. They are specialists in their respective fields and very dedicated. They have always been quick to supply needed information to me and I know that spirit of cooperation will continue.

The new Minister of Natural Resources is the Honourable Alan Pope, and I have every reason to believe that he will be a conscientious and sincere minister. He replaces the Honourable James Auld, who was the real veteran of the House. However, I feel that many decisions have been left shelved and that the new minister must now deal with them. Jim Auld could certainly keep your mind off any problems, but that day is past and I see a new ball game on the horizon.

I will be back with more happenings from the Legislature next week.

by Ron Reid of the Federation of Ontario Naturalists

Life has been exciting around the Don Mills office of the Federation of Ontario Naturalists lately. Our resident family of foxes, which frequent the ravines and meadows surrounding Locke House, have once again produced young. This year it's a family of four, reared in a new den just over the lip of a ravine, not more than one hundred feet from our house.

Grinding away in an office during the annual rites of spring fever is bad enough at the best of times, but just imagine how distracting a family of foxes can become. On one of the gorgeous sun-filled days of April, our family made their first appearance, with both adults keeping a watchful eye on the four playful kits. In contrast to the glowing reddish coats of their parents, the kits are surprisingly dull, with a uniform greyish colouration. Like puppies, they apparently learn through play, and their antics of tumbling and jumping keep up a state of constant motion.

The tricky part for a family of four, of course, is keeping the little devils fed. This constant search for food leads to some curious exchanges. A streak of black and white racing across our back lawn, followed by a reddish blur, turned out to be one of our house cats heading (successfully) for the nearest tree to avoid becoming fox food. That close shave didn't discourage our little cat, however, who was out again

Green Thumb corner

This week we return to the vegetable garden for some tips on proper preparation and a look at everyone's favourite vegetable (even though it is really a fruit), the tomato. Bob Fleming, horticulturalist with the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food discusses the proper method of soil cultivation while Ian Smith, of the Soils and Crop Branch of the ministry offers some advice on tomato production.

One good turn

You don't need expensive equipment to prepare your garden soil. In fact, working the ground by hand may produce better results.

Rototillers can be used successfully for breaking up the soil, but overuse can damage the soil structure. Ideally, the soil should be cultivated to a depth of 20 to 25 cm (8 to 10 in.). In heavy soils, rototillers only reach a depth of about 10 cm (4 in.). A better system of cultivating garden plots is spading, says Mr. Fleming. This process involves digging a trench or ditch about 25 cm deep (10 in.) and 30 cm wide (1 ft). Place the soil from the ditch at the other end of the garden plot.

After you have made a trench the length of the garden, start a 15 cm (6 in.) strip beside it. Using a spade, cut squares of soil and turn them over into the trench. Continue the process until you reach the far end of the garden. Fill in the last strip with soil from the first row.

This system ensures that weeds are turned under completely, and that your soil is cultivated evenly. Organic material such as compost, manure, hay, straw, peat moss or leaves, or commercial fertilizer, can be incorporated into the soil at the same time.

"An easy way to make sure that you incorporate an even amount of organic material is to spread it evenly over the garden surface before you begin the spading process," suggests Mr. Fleming.

Commercial fertilizers can also be added using the same method. A good general fertilizer recommendation is 0.5 to 1 kg of 5-10-15 fertilizer per 10 sq. meters (1 1/2 to 2 lb. per 100 sq. ft.).

Once you have completed spading, you can prepare a seedbed for your crops using a rake or small cultivator.

Everyone's favourite

Tomatoes are the most popular vegetable grown in home gardens. A few tomato plants grow even in small areas, such as fence corners or along a patio, can produce several kilograms of fruit, with proper care.

Unless your garden is large, and you have a small greenhouse for growing your own plants from seed, it is usually best to buy plants from a reputable grower or garden centre. Look for healthy, well-colored, stocky plants, entirely free from suspected disease symptoms, such as mottled-green leaves, or leaves with black or brown spots. Remove any small fruits or open blossoms before planting, otherwise, plant vigor and fruit production will suffer.

There are many varieties from which to choose. If you do not intend to stake your plants, plant determinate (bush-type) varieties. Examples are Springset and Starfire (early), Basketvee (a new variety from Vineland), and Jetfire.

Where space is limited, plant staking varieties. These require more attention, but can be planted closer. They usually produce larger, earlier, cleaner fruit when they are staked. There are many varieties, such as Vogue and Gardener (early), and hybrids, such as Ultra Girl, Better Boy or Wonder Boy.

Some varieties produce small fruit, paste-type fruit and pink tomatoes. Try to select varieties adapted to your growing conditions, with resistance to as many diseases as possible.

Before planting, apply a complete fertilizer, such as 15-15-15, at 10 kilograms per 100 square metres (20 pounds per 1000 square feet). If manure has been applied, use 5-10-10, at about 12 to 15 kilograms per 100 square metres (25 to 30 pounds per 1000 square feet). Apply half the amount before planting time, and work it thoroughly into the soil. The remainder can be used as a side-dressing around the plants, a few weeks after planting. Soils for tomatoes should also contain a good supply of organic matter.

Set your plants in warm, well-prepared soil. Wait until all danger of frost is past before planting. Don't risk frost injury or slow growth just for the sake of earliness. When transplanting, be careful not to disturb the roots, and set the plants about 5 centimetres (a couple of inches) deeper than they were in the original container. Press the soil firmly around the roots, and then apply a cupful of liquid fertilizer or plant-starter solution around each plant. For staked tomatoes, space plants 30 to 45 centimetres apart (12 to 18 inches), in rows 105 to 120 centimetres apart (42 to 48 inches).

Get rid of weeds when they are small. Practise shallow cultivation, because feeding roots develop near the soil surface, and can be damaged easily by hoeing or cultivating too deeply.

After plants are well established (3 to 4 weeks after planting), they can be mulched with clean straw, wood shavings, compost, or other suitable materials. Mulching helps to control weeds, conserves moisture, and keeps the soil cooler during hot weather.

Since summer rains do not normally supply all the water requirements of tomatoes, periodic watering is necessary. Apply enough water to wet the soil at least 12 to 15 centimetres deep (5 to 6 inches). Inadequate or fluctuating soil moisture is the main cause of blossom-end rot, characterized by a black, decayed area at the bottom of the fruit.

For home use, don't harvest tomatoes until they are fully ripe. Artificial ripening results in loss of flavor.

To reduce losses from diseases practise rotation, if possible; use disease-resistant varieties; plant healthy plants; promote fast drying of wet plants by providing adequate spacing and sunlight; control weeds; and spray or dust regularly using a recommended fungicide to help prevent leaf blight and fruit rots.

Law practice changes hands

One of the longest established businesses on Minden's Main street has changed hands.

The law practice of Earl Palmer was sold to Brian Adamson last Friday marking the end of 23 years service to the community by Mr. Palmer.

The law practice has been located in the same building since 1950 when Hugh T. Nicholl established it. In 1958 Earl Palmer purchased the practice and has been doing business from the same spot ever since.

"At the time I purchased the practice," Palmer recalls, "this was the only law office in the county. Now look at the number of lawyers we have serving the area." There are five full-time lawyers in the county now.

Palmer notes that the growth in the number of lawyers has been paralleled by growth in other professions and in business in general. "This is only a 'provisional' county," Palmer points out, "and yet our land registration office is busier than many others in the province."

The lawyer notes that along with this increased activity has come an increase in land prices. "When I first started business here one could purchase a hundred acres of land for $600. Now the price is $20,000 for the same 100 acres, and even more. 23 years ago lakefront property was selling at $20 per foot. Now look at the prices."

Palmer has noted other changes in the community during his years on the Main Street. "It is not the sort of thing that strikes you as it is taking place," he comments, "but as you look back, there have been a great deal of changes, all of them for the good."

He sees a pattern which repeats itself every ten years or so. At that time there is a major change to the community, a infusion of new blood and talent. "It is a revitalization that gets the town going again, giving it a new face". He points to the number of changes taking place this year in the core area as an example of that cyclical upheaval. "It's good for the area, it's good for the community," he comments.

While Palmer may be selling his Minden law practice, he is not retiring from the profession, nor from the area. He intends to continue practising law in Toronto where his family is located. He also has an interest in Gull River Building Supplies on Highway 35 south of Minden and he intends to be more active in its management.

After 23 years here, however, his heart is in the Highlands. "My wife and I have decided that when I retire completely from the legal profession, the Minden area will be where we'll live," he said.

Minden lawyer Earl Palmer, outside his familiar office door with the oval window has retired from law practice in Minden. At 23 years on the Main Street his is one of the oldest businesses in Minden's core area. The practice has been taken over by Brian Adamson.

The new owner of Earl Palmer's practice is Brian Adamson, 29. A native of Kitchener, Adamson comes to Minden from Shelburne where he practised law for two years. He is a graduate of the Windsor Law School and was called to the bar in 1979.

Adamson is married and he and his wife Nancy have one child. They will be living in Minden on Anson Street.

Chairman sees bright future

Minden's Business Improvement Area is moving forward on a positive note. That is the feeling of the board of director's chairman Gord Monk following a meeting Thursday.

The seven members of the board met to lay some initial plans for the core area of the community. According to Monk, a number of plans were discussed. These could be presented to the membership at a meeting which could be called on short notice later this week. Monk stated that each members of the board has been assigned a list of merchants to call so that if a meeting must be organized on short notice, they will have a method of contacting everyone within the BIA.

In addition to discussing a number of projects, various committees were struck by the board. Ron Wrightman will be the board representative on the communication and public relations committee; Jerry Pillsworth will serve on the beautification and restoration committee; budget and finance will include Stuart Brandon, Gord Monk and Joe Shapiera; and Councillor Ed Pergolas will act as a liaison between the board and the council.

Monk noted that other merchants within the area covered by the improvement program will also be asked to assist on the various committees. He said board hopes to involve as many merchants as possible in the operation of the BIA.

The municipality's clerk-treasurer has also been appointed to serve as secretary-treasurer for the BIA.

stalking a large and disdainful pheasant a half hour later, blissfully unaware that he could be prey as well as predator.

The next exchange took place with one of our fat and amiable groundhogs, who like to graze on our lawn as a break from undermining the septic tank. When their commotion sent a cry of alarm through the office, one of the adult foxes had our furry burrower by the hind leg, attempting to drag him away from his underground retreat. The fox might have won, but for a pair of joggers who just then emerged from the woods, causing the cautious vixen to release her hold and flee. Ours may be the only groundhog in Ontario that owes his life to jogging!

By August, our young foxes will have fledged to find their own territories, anywhere within a hundred miles of here. In the meantime, their upbringing provides a welcome spring tonic to our office routine.

Minor hockey banquet Thursday

As the bright, warm sun turns the grass green and coaxes buds to form on the trees, Minden Minor Hockey Association will be holding its final get-together of the year. The annual end-of-the-season banquet and election is scheduled to be held May 14 at the Community Centre.

As usual the evening will feature a guest speaker related to the sport, although the association has been unable to confirm who that individual might be.

Players and parents from all teams sponsored by the association are invited to take part in the pot luck supper, which will begin at 6 p.m. All in attendance will be eligible for a draw for a week at the Haliburton Hockey Haven.

Notes

Tying up loose ends, the association executive reminds everyone that outstanding statements should be paid by the time of the banquet. All sweaters are also to be returned.

League officials should note that a financial breakdown of the league's expenses during the past two years will appear in the near future in this newspaper.

The wind-up dance was a success. Thanks to everyone who attended and congratulations to Chris Coneybeare who won the door prize.

The association now has its own cupboard at the arena, thanks to the volunteer help of Ross Walker, Mervin Barry, Tom Russell, Neil Burk, Carl Hie and Brian Sisson. Special thanks to Peterborough Lumber and Gull River Building Supplies for a "good deal". The cupboard will be used for sweater storage.

The association has also sent a letter of appreciation to the Cavalier Beverage company in Peterborough for the new clock and scoreboard at the arena.

SENIOR LEAGUE

by Linda English

Now that the nice weather is here it is much easier for the residents of Hyland Crest to get out. It is not unusual to see many people out for a daily stroll. We are planning several outings with the bus, and some special events during Senior Citizens Week which is June 21-27. The weekly activities started Monday morning with fun and fitness. We welcomed two new residents to our group this week. We hope that Mary Langdon and Eleanor Walker will enjoy their new home here.

Monday evening's movie was a very interesting and informative film called "De Valera". It told of the great famine in 1840 and how people suffered due to shortage of food and the high cost of living.

Many families were forced from their homes in Ireland and moved to New York to begin new lives. We also learned all about the Boer War in 1978 and the uprising in Dublin in 1918.

Tuesday morning Rev. Merv Kurtz of Haliburton Pentecostal church held service in the Chapel. Agnes Taylor accompanied us on the organ for the singing of some gospel hymns.

In the afternoon our Bingo lovers were out in full force for a game in the main lounge.

Mr. Fred Ballard was here later in the evening to play some lively tunes on the organ for Music Night. Everyone always enjoys Fred's music.

Wednesday evening there was a good turnout to games night. Some assistants from MacKayville were here to play euchre, cribbage and crokinole with our residents. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed the evening of games.

Thursday afternoon the Salvation Army of Haliburton brought an assortment of tea breads and cheese for the Tea Party. This was a special birthday tea for those celebrating birthdays during the month of April. Zilpah Hie and Ann Fountain were our guests of honour. The ladies presented them with a lovely birthday cake and everyone joined together to sing Happy Birthday to these two very special people. Friday was a beautiful sunny day. After lunch we loaded the bus and went for a drive. We ended up at MacDonald's in Lindsay where we had delicious hot carmel ice-cream sundaes. We had a good time singing together on the way home. Our thanks to Ray and

Marie Jenkins for their help and for making our trip so enjoyable.

The draw for Snoopy and Woodstock was made last week in the dining room. Ralph Daniel and Ted Carr drew the lucky tickets. Helen Lee was the lucky winner of Woodstock and Pat Ackerblade was the winner of Snoopy.

A gala dinner party in honour of the forthcoming wedding of Miss Laurie Brown was held at the home of Barbara Fawcett on Wed., April 29. Misses Marg Darby, Karen Thomson, Judy Jackson, Lois Deacon and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Fawcett attended. The future bride poured for the luncheon and a good time was had by all.

At the L.O.B.A. Card Party at their Lodge Hall last Monday, April 27, winners were for euchre lone hands Pearl Cowen, and others Shirley Hewitt, Edna Trumbull, Roy McDonald and Stewart Harrison. After the games, all enjoyed a social half hour and the delicious lunch served by the ladies.

It matters not if you earn your bread
At a flaming torch or a tulip bed,
On a 10-ton truck or a swivel chair
Clipping coupons or cutting hair,
Flying a plane or digging a hole,
Or with hooks and belt on a swaying pole.
It's how you feel at the end of the day
Toward what you've done for your daily pay.
For as you are more than flesh and bone
So your work is more than bread alone.
There's a thrill you get from a job well done
Which changes the task from work to fun,
And that is the bonus for boss or clerk
For that is the life and soul of work.

Spokes

Miss Lois Deacon has returned from a delightful holiday in Europe and will now be stationed in the Kingston Area.

Sincere sympathy goes to the family and friends of the late Pearl Bowron who died since last week.

Allison and John Masters from Scarborough have been visiting the Charles Brandons.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Cox and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Cox visited with the Jack Cowens at Phepston.

Their friends send good wishes to these people, Edith Welch and Christina Precoor, who are both at Minden Hospital.

Dave and Susan White and Matthew, and Judy Miles all of Barrie spent the weekend with Mrs. Jim Miles. Judy Miles is staying on in our village for a while.

Mike Bird and Kevin Newell have returned home from College in Peterborough and will spend the summer in this area.

Winner of the second chance draw on Wintario non-winning tickets last Saturday was Jack Weekes.

The weekly Thursday Mini Card Party at St. Paul's Parish Hall had as winners for euchre, lone hands on a cut Johann Beattie and others Marg McAfee and Mary McKelvey and for cribbage Diane Stevens and Jeanne Sears. There is just one more card game day and then the pot luck supper is planned for May 13.

There were the usual exchanges of books at the Western Branches of Haliburton County Public Library with each receiving their allotments.

There's an old Chinese proverb,
That if practised each day,
Would change the whole world in a wonderful way —
It's truth is so simple, it's so easy to do
It works every time and successfully, too....
For you can't do a kindness without a reward
Not in silver nor gold, but in joy from the Lord...
You can't light a candle to show others the way
Without feeling the warmth of that bright little ray.
And you can't pluck a rose, all fragrant with dew
Without part of its fragrance remaining with you...
And whose hands bestow more fragrant bouquets
Than mother, who daily speaks kind words of praise.
A mother whose courage and comfort and cheer
Lights bright little candles in hearts through the year...

No wonder the hands of an unselfish mother
Are symbols of sweetness, unlike any other...

First snowball at Rotary bingo last Tuesday, was won in 17 numbers by Pearl Cowan. She received $31.00.

The Rails End Gallery is having film nights on the 7 and 8th and included will be display of homes of Haliburton County. Some of these are to be from Minden. May 8 from 2 - 4 is the Thrift Shop opening at St. Paul's Parish Hall.

We notice the weather is warming up with those black flies back, hope they don't last long. The streets are being mended, why not keep our village lovely - put your wrappers and cans in the litterboxes even if you have to take two more steps. And last but not least, best wishes to all Mothers, mine is long since gone, but all the best to all. Cheerio until next time.

Lines from Lutterworth by Jean Lacey

Hi! A very nice weekend even if it was a trifle cool.

Mrs. Lil Porter is back home from Oshawa, where she spent a few days visiting with her son and her daughter and their families. Bill Porter returned with his mother for the weekend. He also bought her a new colour T.V. for Mother's Day.

We send congratulations to Frank Dunsford and his partner Perry Morrison on the opening of their new business Kashaga Ford. The opening was Saturday, I hear they had a good turnout.

Rick and Pam Dunsford were over from Fenelon Falls on Sunday visiting with their families and friends.

Five ladies, Mary Packard, Pearl Durant, Vickie Ross, Jeanne and myself went to the Library meeting in Peterborough last Wednesday. It was a very interesting time as the talks were geared to ways and means of bringing children to the Library. They suggested contests and celebrating seasonal dates or favourite authors birthdays etc. Also the children can join a new Rolling Readers Club. This is a new Club that will start in the summer. We will be using some of these ideas in the summer when we have more children coming to the Library.

On the way from Peterborough, we had a flat tire. A truck with three young lads in it stopped. The three fellows changed the tire for us in minutes and we were on our way. The boys wouldn't take anything for helping us. We thank them so very much, as we surely appreciated their help.

Glad to hear Mr. Wrightman is feeling much better and is back to work.

We were away for the weekend to Shelburne. Had a lovely time visiting all the family. The old man did some fishing, catching 4 nice brook trout.

Claude Hollefreund and his friend were up from Barrie visiting with his cousin, Ken Bowron and family.

So sorry to hear of the passing of Mrs. Pearl Bowron last Thursday, April 30. She was buried May 4. Our prayers and sympathies are with the family at this time.

Also our condolences and prayers go out to Mrs. Reta Lemeux and family for the passing away of her mother, Mrs. Dunstan.

Hint of the Week

According to the 'Book of Useful Information' the annual 'best buys' in foods for the month of May are chicken (broilers, fryers), eggs, butter, milk, cheese, cottage cheese, asparagus, onions, lettuce, cabbage, spring greens, strawberries.

A sorrow shared is but half a trouble, but a joy that's shared is a joy made double.

Hey kids, don't forget to enter the Mother's Day Contest elsewhere in this newspaper. Contest closes Friday.

Well, I guess you kids are enjoying this nice weather we are having riding your bikes, flying kites, skipping and other spring and summer games, but I ask you to be careful at all times no matter what you are doing.

Bareback Rider by Dorothy Aldis

There isn't a prettier sight, I think,
Than a pony that's white and a lady that's pink:
The pony so frisky and stepping so high,
The lady so smiling as they go by,
The lady so tiptoe on her toes,
The pony, his bridle dressed up with a rose,
The lady and pony both liking to be Riding around for the world to see.
